GEN CARRANZA UPSETS THE MEDIATORS' WAGGON

Peace Conference at Niagara Falls Ends in Failure

HUERTA DELEGATES GO TO NEW YORK

Opinion at Washington That Conference Will Not Reassemble

(Special Despatch to The Globe.)
Niagara Falls, Ont., June 30.—The Niagara Falls mediation conference has ended. Formal recess takes effect to-morrow. Within the next few days the A. E. C. mediators and the Huerta delegates will leave here and do not expect to return. While American delegates will do so immediately, but they are likely to be recalled shortly, as there appears to be no reason for remaining in Niagara Falls any longer.

Whether the effort to end the troubles will be resumed at some time in the near future depends upon the Constitutionalists' leaders. General Carranza definitely agreed to the suggestion of the mediators to appoint delegates to meet the plenipotentiaries of General Huerta at Niagara Falls, the two sets of Mexican Commissioners will assemble for the purpose of attempting to adjust the differences between the Constitutionalists and the Huertistas. Carranza is hopeful that a meeting, if it should take place, will not be held here. When they leave Niagara Falls this week, Messrs. El Guero and Rodriguez, the Huerta delegates, will probably go to New York, where they will wait for Carranza's final decision on the suggestion of the mediators.

General Carranza's response to the proposal of the mediators that he appoint plenipotentiaries to negotiate with a settlement of Mexico's internal problems was received by the mediators to-day. It was forwarded by registered mail on Saturday. In it the chief of the Constitutionalists says that he desires to second the effort of the mediators to bring Mexico's troubles to an end by peaceful means, but he cannot give any definite answer until he has obtained the consent of the Constitutionalists. He also expresses his desire to see a modification of the plan of Guadalupe, which provides that upon the capture of Mexico City the Constitutionalists should be installed as the Provisional President of the Republic. "May Not Reassemble."

Washington, June 30.—The recess of the Niagara Mediation Conference was received in official circles without comment, where it was not unexpected, as President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, in constant touch with the American delegates, had been advised of the situation. It was variously interpreted in official and diplomatic circles. "Those who have been pessimistic as to the success of mediation held the opinion that the conference might not reassemble, basing the view on their belief that the Constitutionalists never had desired to participate, preferring to prolong their military campaign."

NEW FRENCH CABINET FEAR STATE STRIKE

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES RESIST KILLING OF THE HALF-HOLIDAY BILL

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Paris, June 30.—Apprehensions are said to prevail in the French Cabinet owing to the possibility of a strike of State employees in consequence of the rejection by the Chamber of Deputies of a bill to give Governmental employees a Saturday half-holiday. This action was taken by the committee regardless of the earnest representations of Rene Viviani, the Premier, and Joseph Noms, Minister of Finance. The workmen's organization feels strongly on the subject, as successive Governments have given public assurances of the granting of the Saturday half-holiday, popularly known here as the "English week." There has been considerable agitation and it is considered almost certain that a strike will ensue.

TWO FAMOUS MEN DEAD IN BRITAIN

Lord Wemyss Picturesque Figure in Public Life

BLIND MUSICIAN PASSES

Sir Francis J. Campbell, Who Lost His Sight When Only Four Years Old, Was a Friend of the Negro and the Blind.

(Special Cable Despatch to The Globe.)
London, June 30.—The deaths of two famous men occurred to-day. Lord Wemyss died at the age of ninety-three, and Sir Francis J. Campbell, in his seventy-ninth year. In Lord Wemyss the nation has lost one of the most interesting and picturesque figures in public life. He will always be remembered by his countrymen as Lord Elcho, one of the founders of the volunteer force, and as a fearless critic in public affairs. He lived under no fewer than six monarchs. Lord Wemyss helped Sir Robert Peel in the reform of the corn laws. His long and crowded life was sprinkled with all kinds of amusing incidents. In the heat of a speech he once made in the House of Lords he brought down the curtain on the head of the then Prince of Wales, afterwards King Edward, who was sitting in front of him. He was the only Peer, it is said, who ever appeared in a kilt in the House of Lords. As a young man he was a thorough sportsman, a magnificent rider to the hounds, a splendid shot, and keen golfer for into his old age. His mental and physical activity remained to the end.

When asked to explain the secret, he replied: "The only thing to do at ninety or before it is to keep on fighting for what one believes to be right. That is the main thing, and remember that the world is ever in its infancy of discovery and invention. I began my life with the tall tales, and I am ending it with the electric light."

He was the "Father of the House of Lords." Lord Wemyss married for the second time at the age of eighty-two years.

Blind Musician's Career.

Sir Francis J. Campbell, who was ex-principal of the Royal College and Academy of Music for the Blind, was born in 1822 in Tennessee, and lost his sight when four years old. At the school for the blind at Nashville, Tenn., his masters told him that basket-making must be his work, but Campbell has been a musician, and learned from other boys what they learned from their music master until his instructors gave way and he followed up his studies at Leipzig and Berlin. His chances of a livelihood in Tennessee were ruined by his adoption of the abolitionist principles. He is said to have been in danger of his life, and was threatened with a hangman's noose for teaching a negro to read, but when he was hanged abroad he was posted to have a blind man there was a general expression of horror.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT FOR AUTO SALESMAN

TWO AND HALF YEARS' SENTENCE AND STERN REPROOF FOR LEAVING DYING MAN.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
Vancouver, June 30.—A notable sentence was passed at the close of the Assizes here to-day against Harvey L. Virgil, an automobile salesman. Last winter Virgil killed Martin Longman, a street sweeper, by running him down in a midnight ride. Virgil was driving a car owned by H. M. Cottingham, and there were two women whom he had picked up on a street corner. Both were fairly wealthy, and they fought the charges in civil and criminal courts very bitterly. A jury returned a verdict against Cottingham for a thousand dollars damages, and to-day Virgil got two and a half years and an unmerciful reprimand. The court found that not only had he driven away from a dying man, whom he knew he had struck, but he had prepared an elaborate perjured defence.

Nothing further has developed in the alleged charges, but it is understood they will be thoroughly investigated at the Friday session before Police Magistrate Kelly.

CANADIANS MUST PAY TAXES TO UNCLE SAM

One Per Cent. Tax on Incomes or Profits Derived From Business, Trade or Profession in United States Will be Collected—Thousands Affected

CADETS ARE IN CAMP AT NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE

WILL NOT PAY TO UNCLE SAM WITHOUT A PROTEST

(Special Despatch to The Globe.)
Detroit, June 30.—From 10,000 to 15,000 residents of Canada, citizens of that country, who are employed on the American side of the border, or who have incomes or profits derived from any business, trade or profession carried on within the United States, are subject to a one per cent. tax on their incomes by the United States, according to an announcement just made by J. J. Brady, revenue collector at Detroit.

The ruling, which local officials some time ago began to enforce, but which was later suspended on an opinion from Washington that the act did not apply, is now reversed and will apply as originally interpreted. It means that even the shop girl earning $5 or $6 a week who resides in Windsor or Detroit, and who has a business or profession on this side, without even the exemptions of $2,000 and $4,000 granted married and single persons of this side of the border.

The effect of the latest interpretation of the law is far-reaching and undoubtedly will be brought to a test in the courts. Not only are Windsor, where thousands who cross the border daily at Walkerville, Sandwich, Amherstburg, Sarnia, Point Edward and Sault Ste. Marie, must pay as well.

Asked whether aliens affected by the latest interpretation of the income tax law would be subject to penalties for failure to make their returns yesterday, the final day for payment of this year's tax, Collector Brady said that that is a matter which will be dealt with secretly between himself and clients. He, however, advises those working on this side of the river to pay up at once, thus avoiding possible penalties for delinquency.

Collector Brady says no notice will be sent out to any aliens subject to the tax, and most instances he proposes to collect it by calling upon firms employing Canadian help to deduct the one per cent. of their wages and salaries and forward it to his office. The firm liable will thus be held liable for the payment of the taxes of all such employees.

CADETS ARE IN CAMP AT NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE

Twenty-five Hundred, With a Hundred Officers

Advance Guard Had Rather Uncomfortable Time of It Monday, but All Was in Readiness Yesterday—Excellent Arrangements for Week.

(Special Despatch to The Globe.)
Niagara-on-the-Lake, June 30.—For the third time this season the historic old military reservation at Niagara presents an animated appearance. This time the soldiers of the future are about to be mustered to the number of about 2,500. On Monday advance parties from the different cadet corps in Toronto, Hamilton, and from many of the rural points came over to prepare the camp for their comrades. Unfortunately the weather was not favorable, and the advance guards did not have a very pleasant night of it. The thermometer fell so low that it became necessary to build bonfires as the night wore on. Towards evening a nasty drizzling rain set in and continued throughout the night. The quartermasters were busily engaged all evening, issuing blankets and rubber sheets, one sheet and three blankets to each boy, and they needed them before morning. When the Niagara corps arrived upon the scene the available supply was exhausted, and they were left to return to their homes for the night. This raised an "awful row," as the youngsters wanted to remain in camp. Some scouting was done by the department, the result being that the necessary coverings were procured in time to prevent a mutiny.

The envelope, which bore an Ottawa date mark, contained an inky, black hand, with the word "Heware" traced in red ink across the palm. There was no name, and no other message enclosed. The Colonel is now perturbed at the awful message of doom. He still smiles, and says he has been shot at too many times to be scared by any threats of such a nature.

JUDGES TO DETERMINE IN EYELASH FINISHES

Several Seats Are Still in Doubt—R. L. Brackin All but Wiped Out Huge Conservative Majority in West Kent—Three Liberals Defeated by Less Than Four Votes

The latest figures of the standing of the new Legislature are as follows:
Conservatives ..... 84
Liberals ..... 25
Labor ..... 1
Independent (Evattured) ..... 1
Total ..... 111

The number of seats gained by each party in the election Monday will not be definitely known for some days, as in five ridings only a few votes separate failure from success. Of these four Liberals, R. J. McCormick, East Lambton; Dr. James McQueen, North Wentworth; Lieut.-Col. Mayberry, South Oxford; and W. L. Brackin, West Kent, are each reported defeated by less than fifteen votes, according to the latest returns last night. In North Bruce, William McDonald, the Liberal, has twelve of a majority; "there may be changes in any of these seats and recounts have been demanded by Dr. McCormick, Lieut.-Col. Mayberry, Mr. McCormick and Mr. Brackin.

What a relief to the members of the Bowling Club, who took an active part in the election.
