CARSONITES CELEBRATED WITHOUT DISORDER

Both They and Nationalist Shrunk From Spectre of War

ULSTER'S LEADER STILL DEFIANT

At Drumbeg Carson Said That Exclusion's Alternative Was Fight

(Canadian Press Despatches.)

London, July 13.—The recognition of the danger inherent in the existence of two armed volunteer bodies seems to have imbued Irishmen with a sense of added responsibility, and the Battle of the Boyne was commemorated to-day in Ireland with tremendous enthusiasm. But there was a more noticeable absence of disorder than on past occasions of this kind.

Following the custom, a great procession marched from Belfast to Drumbeg, where Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster Unionist leader, made his now familiar speech defying the Government either totally to exclude Ulster from home rule or come out and fight.

Lord Londonderry, at Enniskillen, and Walter Hume Long, Unionist member of Parliament for the Strand, at Garvagh, made speeches in a similar vein to other big demonstrations of Ulstermen, but no disorder was reported at any point up to a late hour to-night.

Rival Nationalist and Orange processions at Glendermot reached the stage of jeering at each other, and for a few moments it looked like trouble, but the police succeeded in keeping them apart until the danger was over.

Show Great Self-control.

One feature of the situation seems to be that, while Sir Edward Carson and the other leaders are using unrestrained language, both Ulstermen and Nationalists are showing admirable self-control. Another feature is that the more defiant the Ulster leaders' speeches become, the more pronounced becomes the feeling among the members of Parliament on both sides that a satisfactory compromise will eventually be reached.

Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons to-day that the present session of Parliament would come to an end about the close of August, and that the new session would begin in early winter, which is thought to mean December. Before the present session ends, the Government will introduce its proposals for the reform of the House of Lords.

Under this arrangement home rule and Welsh disestablishment will automatically pass into law by the end of August. Rumors of the early dissolution of Parliament continue to float around, but there is nothing to substantiate them.

Put "Drum" in Drumbeg.

The Daily Mail Belfast correspondent thus describes the march of 100,000 to Drumbeg:

"Rattling and roaring like Maxim guns, the drums of Ulster to-day pro-

Launches Slip Out to Komagata Maru in Early Morning.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Vancouver, B.C., July 13.—Between 1 and 2 o'clock Sunday morning half a dozen powerful gasoline launches put out from shore towards the Komagata Maru with the evident intention of carrying the Hindus ashore. The Immigration Department guards in a launch close to the vessel, armed with rifles, drove the Hindus in their launches back to the shore.

Uruguay Relents For the Women

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, July 13.—El Pais, the official newspaper, announces that a bill is to be presented to the Chamber of Deputies to-morrow granting to Uruguan women the same political privileges as are possessed by men, on condition that they are not incapacitated by any clause in the constitution.

LORDS MAY TO-DAY HEAR THIRD READING

Conclude the Report Stage of the Amending Bill

Hopeful Feeling Over the Prospects of an Amicable Settlement Reflected in Members of Commons—MacDonnell Amendment is Carried.

(Canadian Associated Cable.)

London, July 14.—The report stage of the amending home rule bill has been concluded, and the House of Lords will to-day consider the third reading. Optimistic feeling prevailed in Parliamentary circles last night as the result of the latest discussions in the upper House regarding the prospects of a settlement acceptable to all parties concerned. This hopeful feeling was particularly evident among the members of the Commons, in the lobbies and on the Terrace last night.

Lord Weardale Anxious.

Among the many amendments proposed yesterday was one by Lord Weardale, a Liberal Peer and a home ruler, who believes that civil war can only be avoided in Ireland by the exclusion of the Province of Ulster for the time from the home rule scheme. The object of his proposal was to enable a poll to be taken of the whole of Ulster on the demand of one-tenth of the electors in any four Ulster counties on the question of the temporary exclusion of the Province. He saw no possibility of a compromise except by giving local option to the whole of Ulster. He was willing to consider whether the majority should not be two-thirds, believing as he did that in a very short time a very large proportion of the people of Ulster would be conciliated to home rule.

Lord Crewe Demurs.

Lord Crewe found it impossible to give what he termed "formal" support to the amendment. Lord Lansdowne described it as in some respects an improvement on the Government's original proposal, but remarked that it was rather a strong order to ask the House at that stage to undo an amendment which was carried the other day by a majority of 99. Without further discussion the amendment was negatived without a division.

Lord MacDonnell introduced an amendment to the effect that the constituencies of the Irish House of Commons might be rearranged by order in Council in such a manner that each, with the exception of Dublin University, should return not fewer than three members. His object, he said, was to give representation to the minorities. Unless his proposal were accepted there would be no representatives of the Protestants in the

IN BEGGAR'S GUISE WOMAN STABS MONK

Latter Was Power Behind the Throne of Russia

Gregory Resputin is Credited With Exercising an Influence Over the Czar Far More Potent Than That of Any of His Ministers.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

St. Petersburg, July 13.—The mystic lay monk, Gregory Resputin, a notable figure in the Emperor's court, was stabbed by a woman, named Guseva, at his native village, Pokrovsky, in the Province of Tobolsk, Siberia. One report has it that he died; another that his wound was not mortal.

The attack upon Resputin has excited intense interest in court and official circles here. He was recently recalled to the Emperor's household after an absence of several months, and was credited with exercising an influence over the Emperor far more potent than any of his Ministers, and was regarded in some quarters as the supreme power behind the Throne.

The woman, Guseva, has been tracking him for a long time. She finally approached him in the guise of a beggar and stabbed him in the abdomen. She was prevented from stabbing the monk a second time, as he lay on the ground, by his son, who seized her and held her until the police arrived.

On her arrest, the woman declared that she wanted to avenge one of Resputin's girl victims, who is now in a convent. After being lodged in a cell the woman attempted to commit suicide by cutting her wrist with a piece of glass.

A Penny to Spend; a Nickel to Save

Tarrytown, N.Y., July 13.—John D. Rockefeller is still trying to encourage thrift among the younger generation.

During Mr. Rockefeller's walk around the estate he often visits the new stable. Here the children of the employees line up and tip their hats, saying, "How do you do, Mr. Rockefeller."

The oil king is always pleased to see them. He calls them over one by one, reaches in his vest pocket, and pulls out a nickel and a penny. To each child he says: "There's a penny to spend and a nickel to save."

A LONE WAYFARER LOST ON ATLANTIC

(Special Despatch to The Globe.)

London, July 13.—Nothing has been heard of a west Bay Bridport cripple named Holborrow, since he began last Friday an attempt to cross the Atlantic in a small sailing boat, which he himself made.

Holborrow, an elderly man is alone in the adventure. His provisions include forty gallons of water, half a hundred weight of biscuits, jam, etc.

His boat is a crude craft made from old pieces of wood. The only tools used in its construction were a hammer, a saw, and a chisel.

Holborrow's desire to reach America is attributed to the fact that he has a good deal of property there.

BOTH PARTIES CLAIM ST. GEORGE SEAT

MANITOBA ELECTION FIGURES ARE NOT YET COMPLETE—ONE INDEPENDENT.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Winnipeg, July 13.—The result of the election in St. George is still undecided, both parties claiming the seat. E. L. Taylor, the Conservative candidate, claims he has a majority of 88, while the Liberal, S. Sigfusson, is equally certain that he has been elected by ten votes. St. Clement's, another doubtful seat, is now conceded by the Conservatives as a Liberal seat, though there are four polls still to come. At present the Liberal majority in this seat stands at 137.

The standing therefore is: Government 24, Opposition 21, with one doubtful. The Government forces, claiming St. George, make it 25 to 26, with one Independent, the last named being F. J. Dixon.

STUDENT DUEL FATAL.

Marburg, Germany, July 13.—A student of the university here bled to death to-day after a duel with a fellow-student, during which his jugular vein was severed. Fatal results are almost unknown in these encounters between the members of the various college fraternities. The duels usually involve only a few harmless cuts on the head and face.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Quebec, July 13.—Samuel Mainguy, fifty, was instantly killed about 9 o'clock this morning by a C.P.R. train passing a level crossing at the foot of Bell Hill, a suburb of Quebec. Mainguy was returning home, and the train struck the vehicle in which he was driving.

NEW HAVEN DIRECTORS CRIMINALLY NEGLIGENT

Scathing Arraignment by the Interstate Commission

CENSURE FOR C. S. MELLEN

Its Report Tells of Millions Used Like Stage Money, of Corporations as Pawns in a Master Game With New England as the Prize.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Washington, July 13.—The story of the "reckless and profligate" financial operations of the New Haven Railroad, one of the most remarkable chapters in the history of American railroad and American finance, was revealed in part to-day by the Interstate Commerce Commision in a report to the Senate of its investigation of that road. It told of millions used like stage money, of corporations as pawns in a monster game, with all New England's transportation as a prize, which led the New Haven in the ten years just passed from the height of prosperity to the point where a dividend has been passed, where a dissolution suit is threatening, and where criminal indictments of many of the directors, who figured in its deals, are at least a possibility.

Commission was Hampered.

Hampered by unwilling witnesses, by burned books and by all the mazes which lawyers invented to cover the trail, the Commission estimated that in the progress toward a monopolization of New England transportation, the New Haven stockholders have lost between $65,000,000 and $90,000,000, but little of which they may recover. In return, the report said, they have on their hands properties which pay no dividends, which eat into the earnings of the parent road, and which will be a burden on its capacity for many years to come.

The report deals with the management of the New Haven under former President Charles S. Mellen, and of the present directing head, Chairman Howard Elliott and Walker D. Hines, special counsel, and says: "They have co-operated with the Commission and rendered it substantial assistance, throughout this investigation."

Controlled Five States.

The combination reared by the hands of Mr. Mellen, and approved by the late J. Pierpont Morgan and William Rockefeller, the Commission finds to be clearly in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act and a monopoly in practical control of the transportation of five States.

The Commission's report is unusual in the manner in which the directors of the New Haven are scored for their deeds. It speaks of criminal maladministration and negligence, asserts with positiveness that the directors knew they were perfecting an illegal combination, and says that the dream of a transportation monopoly was unsound and mischievous. The New Haven, the Commission says, employed dummy directors, manipulated accounts, used questionable methods in increasing its own stock, paid the dividends of subsidiaries to make a showing, and used many other devices to deceive the stockholders and the public. It dipped into politics, was a factor in "invisible government," made large campaign contributions to the two dominant political parties, bought officials and tried to distort public opinion. All this it did, the Commission says, "to carry out a scheme of private transportation monopoly imperial in its scope."

Criminally Negligent.

"If these directors who were faithless to their stewardship were held responsible in the courts and at the bar of public opinion, for their failure to do those things they should have done, the lesson to directors who do not direct would be very salutary," says the report. "Most of the directors of the New Haven accepted their responsibility lightly. They failed to realize that their names gave confidence to the public and that their connection with the corporation led the public to invest. When these directors were negligent and serious losses resulted therefrom, they were guilty of a grave dereliction of duty and a breach of trust that was morally wrong and criminal in its fruits.

"Directors should be made individually liable to civil and criminal laws for the manner in which they discharge their trust. A corporation can be no better or worse than those who operate it. It should be just as grave a crime to plunder stockholders or the public through a railroad corporation as it is personally to rob an individual."

Woman Chooses Poison and Takes a Chance

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Pittsburg, P., July 13.—Charles Wagner, who last Monday gave Mrs. Susan Thornton the alternative of drinking slow poison with him or being shot to death, died to-day in a south-side hospital. Mrs. Thornton, with whom Wagner was infatuated, but could not marry, chose the poison, believing her chances were better than if she were killed at once. She died yesterday in the same hospital.

RECEIVERS APPOINTED FOR $17,500,000 FIRM

U.S. Lighting and Heating Co. is Solvent, Though

Frederick R. Humpage, Who Applied for the Receivership, Says That Directors Dissipated the Funds of Corporation in Salaries.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Buffalo, July 13.—Judge John R. Hazel in the Federal Court here to-day appointed receivers for the United States Light & Heating Company, a $17,500,000 corporation engaged in the manufacture of car lighting and heating apparatus.

The application for the receivership was made by Frederick R. Humpage, one of a committee of three appointed last December by minority stockholders to investigate the operations of the company since its incorporation.

In his petition for the receivership, Mr. Humpage said the company is solvent and will continue so if properly managed. He criticized many of the acts of the Board of Directors, which, he alleged, dissipated the funds of the corporation in high and unnecessary salaries, such as $10,000 a year to Charles A. Starbuck of New York as Chairman of the Board of Directors.

The receivers appointed by the court are: J. Henry Ackerman, Manager of the Falls plant; Guy M. Walker of New York, a member of the Minority Stockholders' Committee, and James O. Moore, a Buffalo lawyer. The assets of the company were placed at $3,000,000 and the liabilities at $900,000.

BLIND HORSE COLLIDED WITH DEAF OLD MAN

MALCOLM M'EACHREN, MINTO, SERIOUSLY HURT IN A PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

(Special Despatch to The Globe.)

Harriston, July 13.—Mr. Malcolm McEachren, an old resident of Minto township, was injured in a peculiar manner this morning. Mr. McEachren, who is deaf, was knocked down and tramped on by a blind horse. The injured man was cutting weeds with a scythe in a field and the horse, which was called by his son, trotted across. The animal ran into Mr. McEachren and knocked him down. His injuries are serious and he lies in a precarious condition. The horse was badly injured by tramping on the scythe.

Mr. McEachren is eighty years old and somewhat deaf.

ASQUITH OUTVIES JUDAS

Kingston Orangeman Warm in Criticism of British Premier—Perth Orangemen Criticized Col. Hughes—Rev. Mr. Brace Spoke at Milton.

(Special Despatch to The Globe.)

Perth, July 13.—Fully ten thousand people came to Perth from eastern Ontario to-day to celebrate the 224th anniversary of the crossing of the Boyne. It was the largest demonstration of Orangeism seen here in many years, and the procession was over a mile and a half long. Stonewall Jackson Lowe of Almonte was marshal and led almost fifty lodges in the grand parade. F. R. Pratt, Smith's Falls, County Master, presided at the meeting after the parade, when Ulster's protest, home rule, mixed marriages, binlingualism and Col. Sam Hughes were handled without gloves by Past Grand Officers of the Orange Order. Rev. F. D. Woodcock, Deputy Grand Chaplain, Ontario East, and Rev. F. Williamson, Sharbot Lake, dealt with the home rule question in Ireland.

Rev. Mr. Williamson stated that certain Liberal papers, The Kingston Whig and The Toronto Globe, had no right to interfere in the home rule controversy, and further that Lindsay Crawford, The Globe's representative in Ulster, was being loaded up by Sir Hugh Mack and Sir Robert Kitley, who were issuing false manifestoes. William Galbraith, Montreal, Past Grand Master for Quebec, paid his compliments to Hon. Col. Sam Hughes for what he called contemptible subterfuge practised in the recent Corpus Christi episode in Montreal. Mr. Galbraith charged that the subterfuge was neither creditable to the Minister of Militia, Militia Department, nor the Roman Catholic Church.

Minister of Militia Criticized.

"Why was the Minister not manly enough to rescind the order altogether or stand to his guns?" asked the speaker. "We are tired of this shilly-shallying."

James Birney, Kingston, charged that Asquith was worse than Judas in selling out Ulster to the Nationalists, and said the Ontario Legislature had received a mandate from the people to wipe out the iniquitous bilingualism in schools.

Other speakers were: D. Haddon, Past Grand Master of Quebec, of Montreal; F. M. Clarke, Belleville; Col. Balderson and Rev. J. S. Lowery. It was late when speaking began, and other speakers on the program, but who were not called on, were: Rev. J. C. McLeod, J. A. Stewart, J. C. Ebbs, ex-M.P.P.; William Thoburn, M.P.; Hon. Dr. Preston, M.P.P.; F. W. Hall, M.P.P., and Dr. A. E. Hanna, M.P. Mayor Allan Grant extended a civic welcome, which was responded to by

RAILWAY NOT ENTITLED TO A DOUBLE SUBSIDY

Commissioner Pringle, in Concluding New Brunswick Probe, Names J. K. Pinder and D. W. Brown—He Will Report to Railway Department

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Fredericton, N.B., July 13.—The inquiry being conducted by Commissioner R. A. Pringle, K.C., of Ottawa into the Southampton Railway Company, to determine why the double Dominion subsidy of $6,400 a mile was paid, was brought to a close here late this afternoon. Commissioner Pringle, in a short address, stated that the evidence proved beyond a doubt that the road was not entitled to the subsidy.

An enormous amount of evidence was taken at the Commissioner's sitting to-day, and J. K. Pinder, who built the line, was the most interesting witness. Mr. Pinder was on the stand from 11 o'clock in the morning until about 5 in the afternoon. In his evidence he told the story of the construction of the road from start to finish.

The construction, according to his figures, cost $255,673.33, made up of $142,927.24, the proceeds of the sale of the $155,000 worth of bonds guaranteed by the Provincial Government, and the $81,279.76 received from the Dominion Government in subsidies, together with $28,466.33, which Mr. Pinder claims to have spent from his own pocket. Commissioner Pringle put the cost of the road per mile at $17,700. This is about $3,700 short of the $21,400 required in order to receive the double subsidy.

Stick to Their Statement.

The independent experts employed to estimate the cost of the Southampton Railway place it at $159,000. Messrs. Walsh, Kilburn and Milden, who were recalled to the witness box late this afternoon, refused to materially change their statement after listening to the evidence adduced by the defence.

William S. Thomas, Manager of the Fredericton branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, when called, testified to the business conducted with his bank by the Southampton Railway Company. He said that the account was in the name of J. K. Pinder, and that at one time the latter was $100,000 overdrawn. This account was made up by the proceeds of the bonds and the Dominion subsidy. He had no personal knowledge of where the money went after being drawn out by Mr. Pinder.

In a short address just before the inquiry closed, Commissioner Pringle, after thanking the lawyers for their efforts in clearing the matter up, made it plain that the blame was between J. K. Pinder and D. W. Brown, the engineer. He will report to the Department of Railways and Canals.

Mr. Pringle went to St. John to-night on his way to Charlottetown, where he will preside at an inquiry into some dredging matters.

THOUSANDS OF CATTTLE LOST IN THE WEST

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT SAYS DREAD DISEASE BLACK LEG HAS TERRIBLE HOLD.

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Regina, Sask., July 13.—Thousands of cattle have died in Saskatchewan and Alberta during the present year, the result of the dread disease, black leg. This was the statement issued to-day by the Health of Animals Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture located in this city. Quantities of vaccine, which will if applied in time, prevent the disease, have been sent to different parts of the Province, and it is hoped by this means to secure a foothold in fighting the ravages of this most serious cattle disease. The exact number of cattle which have been lost could not be ascertained by the department.

DESTINY OF MEXICO CONTAINED IN HOURS

Decampment of General Huerta is Hourly Expected—U.S. Hopes That Foreign Complications Will be Averted

(Special Despatch to The Globe.)

Washington, July 13.—A real head to the Mexican situation is believed by Administration officials and the Constitutionalists to be rapidly approaching. The State Department view is that unless there are foreign complications the situation will clear after the departure of General Huerta.

That there will be such complications was manifest by statements made in various circles in Washington to-day. If General Carranza, speaking for the Constitutionalists, will manifest a fair and equitable attitude toward the foreign debts contracted by the Huerta regime the prospective foreign complications may be avoided, or, at least, temporarily postponed.

The State Department has now received definite information that General Huerta is sure to step down and out this time.

Want Unconditional Surrender.

Senor Carbajal, once in charge of the executive power, according to information brought to the State Department to-day, is expected to communicate with the Constitutionalists, offering to turn the government over to them under certain conditions. Just how these offers will be communicated is not known, but it is believed that they will be made direct to the Constitutionalists, and not through the A. B. C. mediators. The Constitutionalists are expected to rejoin that the Government left behind by Huerta must surrender unconditionally or the Constitutionalists will take Mexico City.

Still the Constitutionalists are not so certain that there will not be foreign complications.

Foreign Creditors Insistent.

There were unofficial intimations in diplomatic circles here to-day that certain powers would not recognize Carranza, unless certain guarantees were given respecting the recognition of Huerta foreign obligations as valid and binding. Constitutionalists assert that if the foreign creditors of Mexico, holding obligations incurred by the Huerta Government will wait until these debts can be carefully scanned, the Constitutionalists will deal fairly with those holding these obligations. But they say they want to know how the debts were incurred, and how the money was spent.

Sought Closed Bars Against "Open Bar"

Henry Fellerton, fighting the long losing battle with King Alcohol, has voluntarily put the closed bars between himself and the open bar.

Inspector Crowe of No. 3 Police Station was the strange Samaritan to whom the unfortunate man appealed in his extremity. He staggered into the inspector, with a request to be locked up.

"What?" exclaimed the officer, incredulously.

"It's the only way," replied the man. "I want a week to sober up. I want to get somewhere where the open bar isn't."

The poor fellow was accommodated.
