Mergers Result From Cost of Opening Many Branches.

Out of a blue sky came the ansouncement to the financial community last night of the amalgamation of up capital of $6,000,000 and a reserv fund of $11,000,000, and the Metro politan Bank, with a paid-up capital of $1,000,000 and a reserve fund o $1,250,000. The net result is to re duce the number of chartered banks doing business in Canada to twenty three, and to make Toronto the home of two of the largest banks in Can With its latest affiliation, the Bank of Nova Scotia will rank fourth among the chartered banks of Can ada, and it will obtain an organization and a series of branches which would require years to upbuild.

Finance Minister Assents.

The assent of the Minister of Finance has been obtained to this latest bank merger, and notices to shareholders of both institutions were mailed last night. The terms under which the Metropolitan Bank becomes a part of the Nova Scotia are $200 in cash and one share of the Bank of Nova Scotia stock for each two shares of the Metropolitan Bank. As an institution the Metropolitan Bank recives $1,000,000 in cash and 5,000 shares of the Bank of Nova Scotia stock.

The market price of shares of the Bank of Nova Scotia has recently ranged around $264, being the highest price of the Canadian bank stocks On yesterday's market Metropolitan stock stood at $205 bid, and under stock stood at $205 bid, and under the terms of the agreement the stock figures out at $232 per share. The negotiations, which have been in pro-gress for some weeks, were so well concealed, however, that there was no leak, and transactions in both issues have been nominal.

Cost of Many Branches.

Cost of Many Branches.

Rumors of bank amalgamations have been current for some months, owing to the fact that the larger banks have come to realize the cost of establishing new branches and the increasing difficulties of organization have been factors to consider in plans of extension. In its amalgamation with the Metropolitan Bank the Nova Scotia has secured an exceedingly advantageous position in new territory, and has taken over a business which has been acknowledged among the best of the junior line of banking institutions. In taking this course the Bank of Nova Scotia has followed the precedent of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, which took over the Eastern Townships Bank, and the Royal Bank of Canada, which absorbed the Traders. The merger will not disturb the balance of banking prestige as between Toronto and Montreal, as did the Royal-Traders absorption, and in fact it will not do much more than cement a working arrangement which has been in effect for some years. Officials Go Over, Too.

The President of the Metropolitan Bank, Mr. S. J. Moore, and the Gen-eral Manager, Mr. W. D. Ross, will join the board of the Bank of Nova

AMENDING BILL'S HEARING DEFERRED

This Justifies Belief Conference Will Extend Into Next Week

(Canadian Press Despatch.) London, July 23.—The outstanding fact in the Irish situation to-night is that the home rule conference is still n being, the predictions of the whole Liberal and Unionist press of yestereve of collapse having proved false.

After a protracted meeting to-day the conference adjourned until tomorrow. Meetings and discussions of the various party leaders proceeded in the lobbies of Parliament with unabated activity, and moderate men like Lord Courtney are working indefatigably in the direction of a compromise. Hopes and fears fluc-tuate from hour to hour.

One favorable sign is found in the fact that further consideration in the House of Commons of the amending bill, which was postponed until Monday on account of the conference, has been still further justifies the belief that the conference will extend into next week. Unionist Peers Confer.

Another hopeful indication was a meeting of the Unionist leaders, which was attended by the Marquis of Lansdowne, the Earl of Selborne, the Marquis of Salisbury, the Earl of Hals-bury, Earl Curzon of Kedleston and bury, Earl Curzon of Kedleston and the Duke of Devonshire. Such a gathering of Unionist Peers would hardly have assembled unless some weighty matter was to be discussed. The Liberals, from Premier Asquith down, are working tooth and nall to find a solution of the Uster problem which will meet the views of Vister reconference fall, they hope to reach the goal by other means.

Their most persuasive followers have been busy in the lobbics trying to induce the Irish protagonists to reconcile their differences. Baron Courtney, a lifelong home ruler and an insistent advocate of peace at home and abroad, was busy all afternoon interviewing John Redmond an insistent advocate of peace at home and abroad, was busy all afternoon interviewing John Redmond and the other leading members of the Nationalist party in behalf of the Liberals. Coroners' juries will be asked today to investigate three fatalities which occurred in the city within three hours last night. Deliberately hurling herself from a balcony on the fifth floor of the Private Patients' Building of the new General Hospital, woman patient, while suffering from nerve disorder, was almost instantly killed shortly after nightfall.

Dr. A. K. Heywood, the Assistant Superintendent, related the facts to The Globe as follows: "The woman Josephine Wren of Uxbridge, Josephine Wren of Uxbridge, came in here last Saturday, and had been suffering from nervous depression. During the day she was quite rational, hut at night she frequently became excited, so much so that we had to put a special nurse on her case. The nurse gave her a hot bath at night and also a hot drink, after which she usually slept fairly well. The nurse went into the bathroom last night to give her a bath, and asked her if she wanted a hot drink. She expressed a desire for a cup of cocoa. The nurse had only gone 15 feet from the room, on her way to the pantry, when her attention was called by another nurse to the pattent she had just left. She looked around just in time to see her pattent she had just left. She looked around she was so close that the falling woman had not struck the ground when the nurse reached (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4.) in here last Saturday, and had been (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4.)
