The Globe.

GREAT POWERS STRIVING TO AVERT OUTBREAK

Diplomacy of Europe Striving at Least to Localize

Sir Edward Grey Leading in Negotiations With France, Germany and Italy—Other Negotiations Proceeding in St. Petersburg—An Engagement on Danube Reported

THE ROYAL PALACE OF BELGRADE, AND THE TOWER OF THE CATHEDRAL, SURROUNDING THE CITY

Belgrade, the capital of Servia, where so many hopes are centered, has been surrounded by a military force. The British and French embassies are guarded by a detachment of soldiers, and at the moment are being evacuated. Servia, the small state which is already the center of international politics, is threatened by the powerful forces of Austria and Germany. The situation is grave, and the future of Servia is uncertain.

The Servian Government has appealed to the Great Powers for assistance, and has declared its readiness to accept the terms of the Entente. The Servian army has been reinforced, and is now in a position to resist any attack. The French and British embassies have been closed, and the Servian ambassador has been recalled. The Servian Government has also appealed to the United States for assistance.

In Belgrade, the capital of Servia, the situation is grave. The city is surrounded by a military force, and the future of Servia is uncertain.

The Servian Government has declared its readiness to accept the terms of the Entente, and has appealed to the Great Powers for assistance. The Servian army has been reinforced, and is now in a position to resist any attack. The French and British embassies have been closed, and the Servian ambassador has been recalled. The Servian Government has also appealed to the United States for assistance.

In Belgrade, the capital of Servia, the situation is grave. The city is surrounded by a military force, and the future of Servia is uncertain.

The Servian Government has declared its readiness to accept the terms of the Entente, and has appealed to the Great Powers for assistance. The Servian army has been reinforced, and is now in a position to resist any attack. The French and British embassies have been closed, and the Servian ambassador has been recalled. The Servian Government has also appealed to the United States for assistance.

In Belgrade, the capital of Servia, the situation is grave. The city is surrounded by a military force, and the future of Servia is uncertain.

The Servian Government has declared its readiness to accept the terms of the Entente, and has appealed to the Great Powers for assistance. The Servian army has been reinforced, and is now in a position to resist any attack. The French and British embassies have been closed, and the Servian ambassador has been recalled. The Servian Government has also appealed to the United States for assistance.

In Belgrade, the capital of Servia, the situation is grave. The city is surrounded by a military force, and the future of Servia is uncertain.

The Servian Government has declared its readiness to accept the terms of the Entente, and has appealed to the Great Powers for assistance. The Servian army has been reinforced, and is now in a position to resist any attack. The French and British embassies have been closed, and the Servian ambassador has been recalled. The Servian Government has also appealed to the United States for assistance.

In Belgrade, the capital of Servia, the situation is grave. The city is surrounded by a military force, and the future of Servia is uncertain.

The Servian Government has declared its readiness to accept the terms of the Entente, and has appealed to the Great Powers for assistance. The Servian army has been reinforced, and is now in a position to resist any attack. The French and British embassies have been closed, and the Servian ambassador has been recalled. The Servian Government has also appealed to the United States for assistance.

In Belgrade, the capital of Servia, the situation is grave. The city is surrounded by a military force, and the future of Servia is uncertain.

The Servian Government has declared its readiness to accept the terms of the Entente, and has appealed to the Great Powers for assistance. The Servian army has been reinforced, and is now in a position to resist any attack. The French and British embassies have been closed, and the Servian ambassador has been recalled. The Servian Government has also appealed to the United States for assistance.

In Belgrade, the capital of Servia, the situation is grave. The city is surrounded by a military force, and the future of Servia is uncertain.

The Servian Government has declared its readiness to accept the terms of the Entente, and has appealed to the Great Powers for assistance. The Servian army has been reinforced, and is now in a position to resist any attack. The French and British embassies have been closed, and the Servian ambassador has been recalled. The Servian Government has also appealed to the United States for assistance.

In Belgrade, the capital of Servia, the situation is grave. The city is surrounded by a military force, and the future of Servia is uncertain.

The Servian Government has declared its readiness to accept the terms of the Entente, and has appealed to the Great Powers for assistance. The Servian army has been reinforced, and is now in a position to resist any attack. The French and British embassies have been closed, and the Servian ambassador has been recalled. The Servian Government has also appealed to the United States for assistance.