GERMANY DECLARES WAR ON RUSSIA AND INVADES FRANCE

GERMANY'S LEGIONS ARE MARCHING ON FRENCH SOIL

WAR SUMMARY

GERMANY declared war on Russia and announced that she was at war with France and declared a state of war in her presence. The German invasion of Russia was in response to a request from the French government for the purpose of reconciling differences. The German invasion of France was to prevent a French attack on Germany and to protect her interests in the Balkans.

NO DECLARATION OF WAR

First Serious Blow of Great Struggle

GERMAN INVADE NEUTRAL DUTCHY OF Luxembourg

BRITAIN TO INTERVENT!

London, Aug. 3. — The Daily Chronicle (a Government organ), in a later edition, revised the opinion which it gave earlier, and altered the authors of the Parliamentary correspondence, that the Cabinet had definite and decided to send an expeditionary force, but would make every possible effort to prevent Germany from being drawn into the war. It now says it is practically certain that the Cabinet has decided on certain eventualities, not to abstain from armed intervention.

FRENCH AND GERMANS IN DIPLOMATIC DUEL

A DRAMATIC FINAL SCENE BETWEEN MINISTERS

Seek to Throw Ouns of War on Each Other

Germany asks Russia to cease mobилизацию

ITALIAN GOVERNMENT T HREATEN ITALIAN GOVERNMENT IS MENACING GERMANY

Premier Revolt if Italy sends troops against France

A RIGID DISPOSSESSION

Correspondence between the Italian government and the French government was published in the Daily News and in the Daily Express.

STATEMENT BY GERMANY REGARDING LUXEMBURG

GERMANY DENIES THAT LUXEMBOURG BEATEN

The German government denied that Luxembourg had been beaten and declared that the German army was not responsible for the events in Luxembourg.

ITALY NEUTRAL

Italy declared that the events in Luxembourg were a matter of internal concern and that Italy was not involved.

THE INVASION OF LUXEMBURG

LONDON, Aug. 3. — The Germans have landed the Dutchy of Luxembourg. This annexation was not unexpected, as it was known to be in preparation.

STEAMSHIP ARRIVALS

The steamer "St. Louis" arrived at New York from Europe with a large consignment of German goods. The Steamer "St. Louis" arrived at New York from Europe with a large consignment of German goods.