These two mechanisms are available to host communities to promote better cohabitation between the neighbourhood and O3 Mining.

New Consultation Activities – Fall 2023

A schedule for the participatory process was proposed. To this end, the Corporation is planning three meetings in the fall of 2023: a look back at the work done over the summer, a workshop on the potential deviation of the Keriens waterway, and the maintenance of the value of neighbouring homes. For O3 Mining, communication is essential to building a relationship of trust not only with local residents, but also with all stakeholders and neighbouring communities. The Corporation hopes that these new tools and its proposed participatory approach will encourage dialogue and transparency.
